

neuwerk website — content wireframe

DRAFT FOR CONTENT REVIEW · 2026-08-17

What this is

A deliberately rough, black-and-white outline of every page on the new neuwerk website. Its only purpose is to agree on content: what each page says, what goes in the header and the footer, what the Media section contains, and in what order the sections appear.

What has been left out on purpose

Colours, brand typography, photography, video and all scrolling and hover effects have been removed. They are designed and working already — they are simply not what we are asking about at this stage, and showing them here would pull the discussion away from the text.

Wherever an image, a video or an interactive element belongs, you will find a dashed box describing what will be there.

How to use it

The navigation is live: clicking a menu item, a card or a footer link jumps to that page inside this PDF. Each page starts with its file name and title, so you can refer to them precisely in your comments.

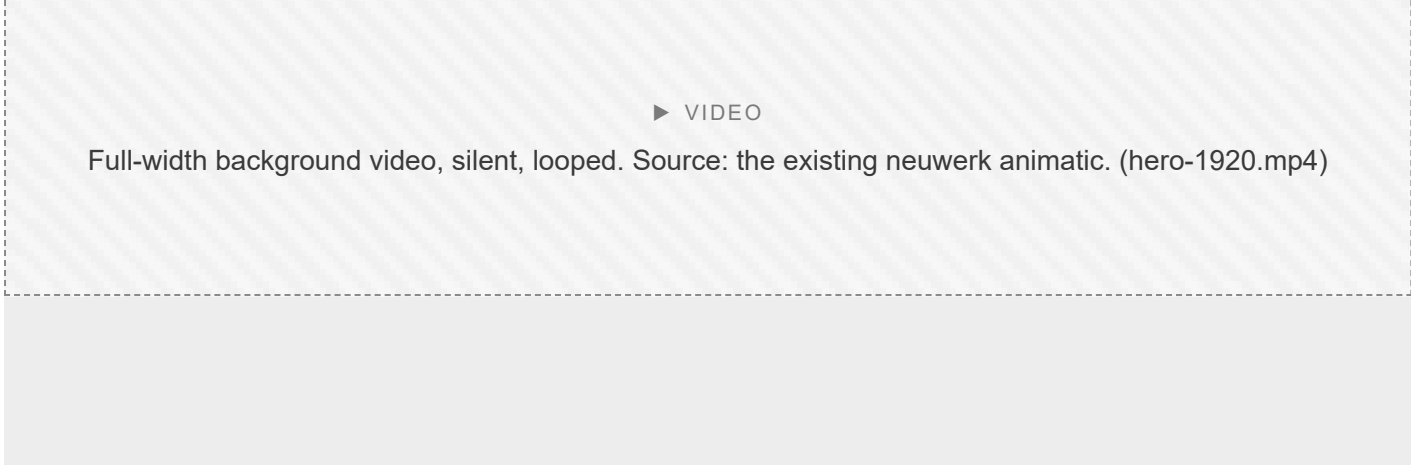

Anything still marked Placeholder is content we are waiting on from your side.

What we would like back

Corrections to the wording, anything missing, anything that should not be there, and whether the page order and the menu structure make sense.

At the same time, we see attractive opportunities where our unique combination of engineering expertise, material know-how, and industrial execution can help solve complex challenges and deliver reliable, scalable solutions.

Combining global capabilities with local customer proximity

Delivering solutions where they are needed most.

MAP

World map — dotted grid, one marker per country. Currently 18 countries: USA, Mexico, Brazil, Germany, France, Austria, Morocco, Netherlands, Portugal, Hungary, Romania, Slovenia, Slovakia, Serbia, Czech Republic, China, South Korea, Japan. Hovering or focusing a marker shows the country name. QUESTION FOR YOU: should the map show the individual cities as well, or countries only?

Each marker is a country where neuwerk operates.

A NEW IDENTITY

Proud of where we came from.
Confident in what we can do.
Ready for what comes next.

neuerk marks
the beginning of a new chapter.

The sentence above fades in word by word as it scrolls into view.

THE BREAK

Born from Continental's former Original Equipment Solutions business area, the company now moves forward with a distinct identity of its own.

THE NAME

The name combines two ideas that define who we are: NEU stands for renewal, progress and the courage to evolve. WERK stands for our foundation: engineering expertise, industrial capabilities and the craft to turn ideas into reliable solutions.

NEU

The courage to change.

WERK

The craft to build it.

neuerk

A design built to move forward.

Purposeful, distinctive and built to perform

The neuerk visual identity reflects what the company stands for: expertise, clarity and progress. The rising diagonal element symbolizes momentum and the confidence to move forward. The clean wordmark represents focus, technical excellence and strength of purpose.

Like our solutions, the identity is purposeful, distinctive and built to perform.

Built on German engineering heritage and shaped by decades of automotive experience, neuerk brings together what makes us strong with a clear ambition for the future: to become more focused, more customer-centric and more integrated as one independent company.
